FOUR-HIT GAME

Cardinals, in Own Back Yard, Hope Haines Will

Now Lead, 2-0.

BY GRANTLAND RICE.

New York, October 5.—Having lifted one foot out of the mire of the grave on Thursday, the Yankees lost only a few minutes in hoisting the other foot out today as they whaled the everlastingly whout of the Cardinals, 9 to 3, and set a new world's record with six consecutive victories.

A year ago, they beat the Pirates
four straight and as they left for St.
Louis tonight to carry on the slaughter, they carried along a pair of Cardinal scalps dangling at their belts.
In their desire to check the Yankee rush, the Cardinals rushed Grover Cleveland Alexander to the rifle pit and the 41-year-old veteran departed in the third inning with his epidermis looking like a section of a Swiss cheese.

Unlike 1926 Hero.

Two years ago, the same Grover Cleveland Alexander stood the Yankees on their sun-blistered necks in two games and later halted them to save another. The ancient Macedonian from Nebraska stepped out in front of the Yankee bats again and this time they sent him back to the cooling showers as 60,000 fans looked on. While the Yankees were peeling the hide of Alexander, scoring seven runs from his delivery before he was good-bye, George Pippas held the Cardinals in the hollow of his clammy hand in every inning except the second. He allowed three runs in this inning, but out of this one collapse,
he put the Redbirds into a pie.

As the result of this second triumph, the Yankees left St. Louis with a two-game lead, far in front, as the camp followers were calling loudly for "four straight."

The Old Artillery Aids.

It was the big punch again yesterday. It told the story and wrote in full the second chapter. You can have all you want to about technique and defensive skill, but after all, it is the big blow, the crashing wallop, that carves out modern history in sport nine times in ten. Two years ago, Alexander pitched 21 innings against the Yankees, who were then in the best of health, and these 21 innings he submerged them with four runs. Today, in the second game of the series at the Yankee stadium, the Yankees had hammered out seven runs from the mediaeval system of the star veteran before Clarence Mitchell, first baseman, catapulted far into the air the right field bleachers, was the bomb that blew old Alex's scepter out of his famous right hand. It scored three runs and it proved again that Yankee offense was once more on its way.

Pippas Is Right.

Old Man Alex coked the battered old cap over his right ear and made a game and valiant effort to roll back destiny and put a silencer on Yankee bats, but they had him measured.
They rolled him as the sun rolls in the sky. He put everything he had on the ball, but the star of 1926 was the punching bag of 1928 and that is the way sport happens to go. It was the old-fashioned Yankee punch, massed in the first three innings. And while this punch was working overtime, George Pippas was suppressing the Cardinals with four

Prisoner Says, However That He Never Got Any Money in Indiana That

Clinton S. Carnes, on the verge of a nervous breakdown, sits in his cell in Fulton tower a silent man. With one exception, he has spoken only to

William Schley Howard and James

A. Branch, attorneys, whom he requested to see him after his arrival

Friday morning on the Dixie Limited

at 8:55 o'clock.

Only once since he left the train at the Union station has he listened to questions from a newspaper man and answered. Then he admitted to a Constitution representative that he knew something of the Clinton, Ind.,

reports that he and a railway payroll disappeared at the same time back in 1913, brought to light by The Constitution Friday morning.

"I've been misquoted so much, what difference does that Indiana affair

make?" he said. "It was only $15

anyway."

Carnes told "The Constitution" representative that he did not wish to be interviewed, that he would say nothing until "his attorneys" had been to see him.

And he told, as the newspaperman role by his side from the Union station to Fulton tower and then accompanied the former Baptist teacher into the tower of his bitter feeling toward newspapers and newspapers men from the "lies" they had told about him.

"I never got any money in Indiana that wasn't due me and besides if I as saying just before the iron gates of the city jail slammed shut behind him.

G. O. P. Candidate Will Speak at Elizabethton
This Afternoon, Subject
Is Patriotism.

WIFE ACCOMPANIES
NOMINEE ON TRIP

Fourth Major Address of Secretary Expected To Draw Hundred Thousand to Small Village.

Washington, October 5.—(AP)—

Bound for the eastern Tennessee mountains where he will deliver his fourth major speech of the campaign at Elizabethton tomorrow, Herbert

Hoover left Washington at 11 o'clock

tonight.

Accompanying the republican presidential nominee on his special train were Mrs. Hoover, their son, Herbert,

Jr., his assistant, George Akerson, and a number of newspaper correspondents and photographers.

Although the destination of the republican nominee was Elizabethton,

Tenn., in the heart of a mountain stronghold of republicanism, the speech that he will make there tomorrow will be carried by the radio into democratic homes in the other southern states under an extensive broadcasting hookup.

Word came to Hoover's personal secretaries before his departure that the people of the mountain town had furnished its streets and put themselves in readiness to welcome him in hearty southern fashion upon his arrival tomorrow.

Thirty Editors Call.

Today saw the candidate busy in a round of conferences. Among his callers were thirty editors of foreign language newspapers, circulating among fourteen nationalities.

To them, Hoover expressed his thanks for their interest in the campaign and described its problems as of equal importance to all nationalities, regardless of race or creed.

"These campaigns require themselves into national debates and as a result of the great interest which they arouse give all sides an opportunity to speak and to be heard on important questions," he said.

The nominee reminded the editors that the rapidly which new emigrants are coming to this country is not determined by the races from which they spring but by the intelligence and ability of the individual under conditions he finds in this country.

"There is no distinction of races in this national debate," he said. "It is a discussion entirely between Americans and must be so regarded, we do not want international disputes in America. There have been too many of them in the past."

Hoover will be accompanied on his invasion of Dixie by Mrs. Hoover, their son, Herbert, Jr., and several other members of his personal staff and the corps of newspaper correspondents that has been assigned to him for the last several months.

Leaving Washington late tonight,

the first stop of the non-stop train

Fortune in Gems Dropped in Bay, Asserts Smuggler

Rio Janeiro, October 5.—(AP)—Whether jewels with an estimated value of $150,000 lie under the blue waters of Rio Janeiro's famous harbor or are cached safely ashore is a question which is bothering the customs authorities here.

Meanwhile Joaquim Miranda, a member of the harbor police who is under arrest on a charge of attempting to smuggle the gems into Brazil from the liner Cap Polonio for São Paulo jewelers, is being held incommunicado. After many hours of questioning he still maintained that the package had been dropped overboard from a launch while he was returning from the liner and that consequently he does not know its whereabouts.

Customs officials believe that with the arrest of Miranda they are on the trail of huge smuggling operations in precious stones which may have been going on for years with the aid of ship employees and the connivance of harbor police who are able to bring the jewels ashore without suspicion.

HENSLEE WILL SEEK PRISON BOARD PLACE

Prominent Barnesville Man
To Ask Place Made Vacant
by Death of Davison.

A. H. Henslee, of Barnesville, formerly of Atlanta, has announced his candidacy for the place on the state prison board made vacant by the death of R. E. Davison, he stated here Friday.

Mr. Henslee, a retired farmer and successful business man, first entered politics in 1916 when he ran against Mr. Davison in a four-cornered race which Mr. Davison won.

In 1927, G. A. Johns was appointed to the commission to fill the unexpired term of T. B. Patterson. Mr. Henslee opposed Johns in the primary this year and though he was defeated, received more than 55,000 votes. On the strength of this recent showing, Mr. Henslee predicts his success in the November election. Governor Hardman is expected within the next few days to announce a successor to Mr. Davison, who was chairman of the commission, to serve until January when the candidate named in the November election will go into office.

Man and Woman Found Shot Dead In Parked Car

Detroit, October 5.—(AP)—A man and a woman were found shot to death in the front seat of a parked car on an outlying street here early today.

The man was about 50 and the woman 35 or 40 years old. Both were well dressed, each had been shot through the head. A revolver lay on the seat between them.

Patrolmen found the bodies in an upright position with the man's arms around the woman's neck and his head on her shoulder.

Police were unable to identify the couple, but the automobile license, they said, had been issued to H. V. Albers, Detroit, a life insurance agent. A locked suitcase was found in the rear of the car. It was taken to police headquarters.

Police said papers found on their bodies identified the couple as Albers and Mrs. Cecil M. Sage. Mrs. Sage was the wife of J. E. Sage, manager of a ready-to-wear shop here. Sage said he had been separated from his wife two months.

In a handbag in Mrs. Sage's lap police said they found two cashier's checks, one for $20 and the other for $25.00.

George A. Berg, deputy coroner, said he believes one of the two shot the other and then ended his or her own life.

Two Florida G. O. P. Candidates Quit
Race for Offices

Orlando, Fla., October 5.—(AP)—Dr. Glenn Henley, of Melbourne, and J. E. Barker, of Orlando, who were candidates for secretary of state and railroad commissioner, respectively, on the republican ticket, have notified the state board of elections of their withdrawal. Glenn B. Barker, chairman of the committee, announced today.

This leaves only W. J. Howey, candidate for governor, and F. A. Stroup, Kinsimnee, candidate for state treasurer, on the republican state ticket.

Major Barker H. Warburton, mayor of Palm Beach, still in the republican race for United States senator. The presidential electors also remain on the tickets, as do the congressional nominees.

"We are going to elect Howey to the governorship and Stroup to the treasurer," Barker said, in making the withdrawal announcement, "and we intend to leave nothing undone to make their election certain. The candidates, themselves, arrived at the conclusion that it was the wisest course to pursue, and voluntarily withdrew."

The results in Florida, as far as Howey is concerned, has never been in doubt from the beginning. Howey has been gathering strength steadily, and the present condition in the democratic ranks makes the election of Stroup certain.

Skipper said that Major Warburton would start Monday on an intensive campaign that "will probably equal that already started by Howey. I believe we have a good chance to elect him, as well as the congressional candidates for the four districts."

TAXICAB COMPANY
PROTESTS SEIZURE
OF ITS BOOKS

Chicago, October 5.—(AP)—The Checker Cab company today asked that warrants charging larceny be issued against Deputy Police Commissioner S. J. Steg, State's Attorney Crowe and two assistant state's attorneys.

Seizure of the cab company's records was given as the reason for the protest. Judge Johnson of the municipal court told attorneys of the cab company that the warrant would be issued if the papers were not returned.

Commissioner Steg, two assistant state's attorneys and detectives took the cab company's papers and records Wednesday. State's Attorney Crowe had ordered the records, as well as the Checker company officials, to be brought before a grand jury following two bombings of Yellow Cab garages and the burning of the stables of John Hertz, head of the Yellow Cab directorate.

Checker Cab officials declared Mr. Crowe unqualified to conduct an inquiry into reputed trouble between the employees of the two cab companies. It was charged he held stock of the Yellow Cab concern. Checker company attorneys said they would present evidence of corruption of public officials who, they said, desired to destroy all rivals of the Yellow Cab company in Chicago.

Legionnaires Gather Here For San Antonio Invasion

DELEGATES FROM 3 STATES CONVENTION BOUND

Georgia legion chiefs, off Friday night for the national convention in San Antonio, return time for the "doughnut" trip. William E. Tate, national D. A. V. commander; Frank Haas, grand chief de gare of the Georgia "40 & 8," and Frank Kempton, legion state vice commander, ply Laskie Annetta Turkington with that historic coffee and doughnut combination while she distributes The War Cry.

Echoes of troop trains that roared through Atlanta bound for death and glory eleven years ago sounded softly through the terminal station Friday night when the southeastern delegation to the American Legion national convention in San Antonio next week piled merrily into special cars to begin the westward push.

Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina legionnaires were marshalled into travel formation here, to be joined en route at Montgomery, New Orleans and other points by delegations of other southern states. They will stop over several hours in New Orleans.

Frank Haas, chief de gare of the "40 & 8" and transportation chairman for the trip, and Frank Kempton, Georgia vice commander, headed the delegation here. Asa Warren Candler, past commander, and Fred Leister, local adjutant, are making the trip by automobile.

Atlanta's representation at the convention will include Commissioner William A. McIntyre, southern commander of the Salvation Army, and Mrs. McIntyre, who are en route there to join their daughter, Mrs. Robert Walbridge, national commander of the Legion auxiliary and the original "Salvation Army doughnut girl" in France. National Legion officers will assist Commissioner McIntyre in dedication of a new Salvation Army building in San Antonio during the convention.

The Atlanta post gave a rousing send-off to its delegates and those from the Carolinas at the weekly luncheon Friday with the Fort McPherson orchestra and Lee's Capitol vaudeville acts for entertainment. The San Antonio party paraded downtown after the luncheon.

NO DEFINITE DATE SET FOR DIRIGIBLE'S FLIGHT

Friedrichshafen, Germany, October 5.—(AP)—The flight of the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin to the United States has now been set for any time after October 9, instead of on Sunday, as had been originally planned.

"It depends entirely on wind and weather what route we take," said Dr. Hugo Eckener today. "Naturally I would like best to choose the northern route which is the shortest one across and would even put up with bad weather over land. In that case we would fly by way of Holland, middle England, northern Ireland and then across the Atlantic to Newfoundland and thence by way of Boston to New York. Unfortunately, there is usually bad weather along this route so that we may have to pick a different course which would be most likely toward the south."

"From the moment that we reach the European coast we will need from 45 to 80 hours for the actual crossing to the west while the whole trip in the easterly direction with the wind in our back should not take more than two days. We have arranged for no special weather service, but will rely on the ordinary one for ocean vessels."

Dr. Eckener urged that the public should not worry if nothing should be heard from the Graf Zeppelin for many hours. He expects to send out his location to Friedrichshafen from time to time but once the gulf stream has been reached wireless probably will be difficult.

"After the 40th hour don't worry if you do not hear from us for a long time," he said. "The Zeppelin is built so well that even if two motors should fail to function and three compartments of the gas bags lose their contents, we could still navigate."

The doctor added that during the first part of the journey the dirigible would rely on the Norddeich and Koenigsrueterhausen German radio stations and thereafter on the American coastal stations and the Washington weather bureau.

DELAWARE BISHOP
DEPLORES BIGOTRY
AS POLITICAL ISSUE

Wilmington, Del., October 5.—(AP)—The Wilmington Evening Evening-day publishes an interview with Bishop Philip Cook, of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Delaware, in which the prelate deplores the injection of religious differences into the presidential campaign.

"A discussion of religious issues and an appeal to religious prejudices," the bishop said, "simply has no place in this political campaign. It only stirs up bitterness, produces heat and no light. It is bound to react harmfully to American life and national concord."

Bishop Cook said he regarded this situation as a dangerous development in American politics. "The minister," he said, "who thinks he can tell his congregations how to vote is, to my mind, a poor sort of citizen and an unsafe spiritual leader."

DEFIANT INDIAN MEET RENOUNCES FRANCHISE

Six Chiefs and 400 Braves Hold Big Pow-Wow
in Nevada.

Winnamucca, Nev., October 5.—(AP) A declaration of "non-cooperation against politicians," akin in its asserted intent to the non-cooperation movement fostered by Mohandas K. Gandhi in India, has been made by a large group of western Indians, who renounced the right of franchise in a defiant pow-wow concluded at Fort McDermott yesterday.

Up in arms at their alleged "97 years of ruthless exploitation by bureau agents," and asserted failure of the government to observe Indian treaties, six chiefs and 400 Indians, said to represent every tribe in southern Idaho, western Utah, northwestern Nevada, northern California and southern Oregon, signed a pact vowing defiance of Indian agents and asserting they were "not going to vote for the palface government any more."

The tribesmen decried what they called "forcing of meaningless citizenship upon them, and declared they would lose all rights of protest if they continued to vote."

"We are going to get our rights, even if we have to fight," a resolution stated.

The Indians agreed to turn their backs "upon twenty-dollar bills and hugs and kisses which the candidates like to give up."

The council at which the action was taken was said to have been called as the outgrowth of alleged failure of the government to keep treaties made years ago.

The resolutions asked that the government send the chiefs copies of all bills for clothing, food and medicine sent to the agencies involved and set forth that the Indians hereby would "ignore and defy" the Indian agents of the government.

"We ask the government to set aside land where we can live and be free of 97 years of ruthless exploitation by bureau agents," the resolutions said. "We also want the right of hunting any time of the year, unmolested by game wardens."

WILL BUILD 50
MILES OF NEW R.R.
IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Washington, October 5.—(AP)—Permission to construct approximately 50 miles of new railroad at a cost of about $1,000,000 in South Carolina was granted the Atlantic & Northwestern railroad, a new corporation, today, but the interstate commerce commission.

The line is projected to run from Mount Pleasant, a point on Charleston harbor via McEllenaville, to Jamestown, a point on the Seaboard Air Line, and will serve both agricultural and lumbering territory.

The total estimate for constructing, financing and equipping the projected line as presented to the commission was $961,921. The corporation was also granted permission to retain for 10 years after completion any earnings which it may be able to make in excess of 6 per cent on the cost of its line.

Peaceful Nicaraguans
Killed, President Diaz
Seeks the Slayers

Managua, Nicaragua, October 5.—(AP)—President Diaz today was drafting a decree offering a reward for the arrest or information leading to the arrest of persons responsible for killing at least eleven peacefully-inclined Nicaraguans during the last week. Seven persons were killed a week ago near Santa Cruz and at least four others on Tuesday at the village of San Marcos, department of Jinotega, the slayings being attributed to outlaws.

It was understood that the decree would also authorize the organization of vigilantes to operate under officers of the national guard who are United States marines. A vigorous campaign would be started immediately to clear Jinotega of small roving bands, which were thought to be remnants of General Augustino Sandino's forces.

SENATOR CURTIS TOURS NORTHERN INDIANA

Visits Several Cities With G. O. P. Leaders of Hoosier State.

En Route with Senator Curtis in Indiana, October 5.—(AP)—Senator Curtis, the republican vice presidential nominee, campaigned through the thickly populated Calumet region of northern Indiana today on an automobile tour in company with party candidates of the Hoosier state.

After a day of play yesterday when he went to Lincoln Fields race track to watch the horses run, the senator was back to the political grind in Indiana.

Representative Will Wood, of this district, led the senator on the automobile tour and he was accompanied by virtually all the Indiana republican candidates, including Senator Robinson, who is running for reelection. Each city almost joins the throng up in this industrial corner of northeastern Indiana and republican leaders always count heavily on this region.

The Hoosier leaders awaited the arrival of Senator Curtis at the state line just outside of Chicago early this morning and from there the trail of the automobile caravan led through Whiting, East Chicago, Indiana Harbor, Hammond, Hobart, Lowell, Crown Point and Gary.

MACEDONIAN FEUDS
GROWING MORE BITTERTwenty-Three Followers of Protogeroff Are Hanged.

Sofia, Bulgaria, October 5.—(P)—Bitter feuds among opposing factions of the Macedonian revolutionists are becoming fiercer and fiercer, and assassinations are reported daily.

The latest news, more sanguinary than ever, was received from Kustendil stating that 23 followers of the recently assassinated comrad leader, General Alex Protogeroff, including General Barbuski, were hanged in a forest just outside of the town a few days ago by their rival Macedonian group.

This latter group was said to be followers of Ivan Michailoff, leader of the Macedonian autonomous faction.

The feud among the Macedonian revolutionary organizations goes back to 1924 when the leaders split on the question of absolute autonomy for Macedonia or the incorporation of the area of Macedonia, now divided among Yugoslavia, Greece and Bulgaria, as a federal state in one of them, presumably Yugoslavia, which rules the greater part of the historic district.

General Protogeroff, leader of the federalist group was assassinated in Sofia on July 7. His death was the signal for the flaming out of reprisals among the various factions, and on August 26 reports were received of the massacre of fifteen Protogeroff followers in a mountain pass near Philippovo.

Woman Defendant
In 'Love Powder' Case
Becomes Hysterical

Charlotte, N. C., October 5.—(P)—Mrs. Emalee F. Preslar, on trial charged with murder in the "love powder" case, went to the attorneys of the state for cross-examination in superior court here at 10:30 o'clock this morning and almost immediately broke completely down in a flood of tears and hysteria. She was carried from the courtroom by sheriff's officers and Attorney Jake Newell, her chief counsel, until she could compose herself, at the suggestion of Judge W. F. Harding, who is presiding. She is one of the trio charged with poisoning her first husband, L. M. Lockamy.

The woman was sobbing loudly and her crying could be heard the farthest corners of the big courtroom auditorium before she was finally assisted from the stand.

No new evidence came out in the hour of direct examination this morning, as the most of it went over points that were made late yesterday afternoon. Her cross-examination had hardly begun when she broke down.

At the time she was being questioned about letters that she said that she had written to make her husband jealous and which were not addressed to any particular person or ever mailed.

Nothing takes the place of STERLING SILVER in the modern American home. It breathes the atmosphere of elegance and refinement truly of the Southern home where the aristocratic heritage still lives.

Is your dining room equipped with Sterling Silver?

If a complete silver service is yours inherited from earlier generations you are indeed fortunate, for the prohibitive price of Sterling Silver years ago and because of the tedious hand-made method of manufacture few complete services are in existence. If you have accumulated a complete service of your own you are valuable, for the pleasure and pride you now have in its possession will be passed on to future generations who will treasure such beautiful heirlooms.

If you have not accumulated a silver service and may wish to do so, come in during our OPEN HOUSE EXPOSITION October 1-20 and look around. See the number of designs in Sterling Silver and choose the one you like best. We will be glad to help you choose the essential pieces which you may wish first. Others may be added out of the family budget and on gift occasions until your service is complete.

LEGGERS' BLUE BOOK
IN OFFICIAL'S HANDSPhiladelphia Expects More Sensations From Revelations.

Philadelphia, October 5.—(P)—A bootlegger's account book, the fifth of its kind to come into the hands of District Attorney Monaghan since the start of the current grand jury investigation of liquor, vice and police, was under examination by the investigators today.

The book, given to the prosecutor by Samuel O. Wynn, federal prohibition administrator for this district, was seized in a raid. Information gathered from the other account books was responsible for the seizure by the district police commander and 24 patrolmen and detectives on charges of bribery and extortion.

The district attorney said today that the results of some of the police had reached such a high figure that he would have to take several hours of it to calculate the total.

"And," he added, "it goes without saying that we probably have not discovered all of it."

Monaghan said he would continue a search of all bank records, federal officials might keep their money.

When Captain Charles Beckman, suspended head of the detective bureau, was responsible for the seizure of the service commission yesterday it was brought out that he had deposited in one bank $55,020.49 from September, 1922, to September, 1927. Beckman explained this by saying he had handled large sums for policemen of other cities for the purchase of tickets for the Turner-Dempsey championship fight and that he had made considerable in real estate. He denied having accepted bribes from Max "Boo" Hoff, designated by the district attorney as the "king of bootleggers," or from anyone else.

Incendiarism Blamed
For Fires on Estate
Of Viscount Lancelles

Portunna, County Galway, Irish Free State, October 5.—(P)—Incendiarism was suspected today after two fires had occurred on the Irish estates of Viscount Lancelles, husband of Princess Mary.

Portunna Castle, where elaborate preparations had been made for the arrival of the owner and his wife, was badly damaged, the fire sweeping the castle, stables and a garage.

Civic guards found four empty gasoline tins in a harness room after the fire had been extinguished. Their suspicion that the blaze might have been incendiary was strengthened when they later found traces of gasoline around the main building and some of the outbuildings containing offices.

Twenty-five tons of hay were burned at the same time and another Irish estate of Viscount Lancelles.

The owners intended to visit the castle tomorrow and despite the fire plans for their coming have not been changed. It will be the first visit of Princess Mary to Ireland and her husband's first appearance at his Galway estate since his marriage to the daughter of King George.

Princess Mary in September lost six valuable race horses when fire destroyed the stables at Goldborough Hall, the couple's Yorkshire home. There has been nothing to indicate, however, that this blaze was incendiary.

12 Prisoners Force
Door in Kentucky
Prison and Escape

Frankfort, Ky., October 5.—(P)—Twelve prisoners, three of whom were held on federal charges, escaped from the Franklin county jail here at 4:30 a. m. by forcing open an iron-barred door, burrowing through a brick wall and sliding down a line of blankets which had been tied together.

The jail delivery, carefully timed and executed, occurred during the brief interval in which the warden, Steven Toppas, had left his office to go to his home, less than 50 yards away, to awaken his son.

Shortly after the jail delivery was discovered emergency calls were forwarded to all nearby points, but two hours later no trace of the prisoners had been found.

Rushed Into Jail.

A cordon of policemen made a lane in the milling human mass, and Carnes was rushed through it into the jail. Hundreds foreseeing the impossibility of seeing him at the station had crowded around the county jail.

Carnes occupies the cell formerly occupied by Jack Lane, who was arrested on the charge of the murder of Bert Donaldson. The wing is known as "first north." His cellmates are Fred Fair, under death sentence for the slaying of Patrolman J. E. McDaniel; C. A. Kitchen, charged with larceny after trust; Reginald Foster, held for arrest after deportation; Edgar F. Foster, charged with contempt of court, and Harless Grant, one of two brothers charged with the killing of a deputy sheriff at Cartersville. The latter also is under death sentence.

L. J. Bales, of the Branch & Howard firm, hurried the train as it rolled into the station, in response to a telegram which Carnes sent the firm. The firm had been retained tentatively to defend him.

Son Embraces Prisoner.

Young Samuel Carnes, eldest son of the former treasurer, was the only member of the family to greet him at the station. A pathetic scene occurred when they embraced, the boy saying "Dad." That was the only audible word spoken between them before the mad rush to the tower was begun.

Thomas Howell Scott, one of the receivers for the Carnes holdings, also was permitted to see him in addition to Mr. Branch and Mr. Howard, who were admitted shortly after Carnes was incarcerated.

Solicitor-General John A. Boykin and other attaches from the office were at the station to meet the noted official when he arrived. A short conference was held. Mr. Boykin then pounded the papers and other personal effects of the prisoner in order that the keys, supposed to be to safety deposit boxes, papers and other paraphernalia might be accessible to the solicitor's office and not become lost as probable evidence.

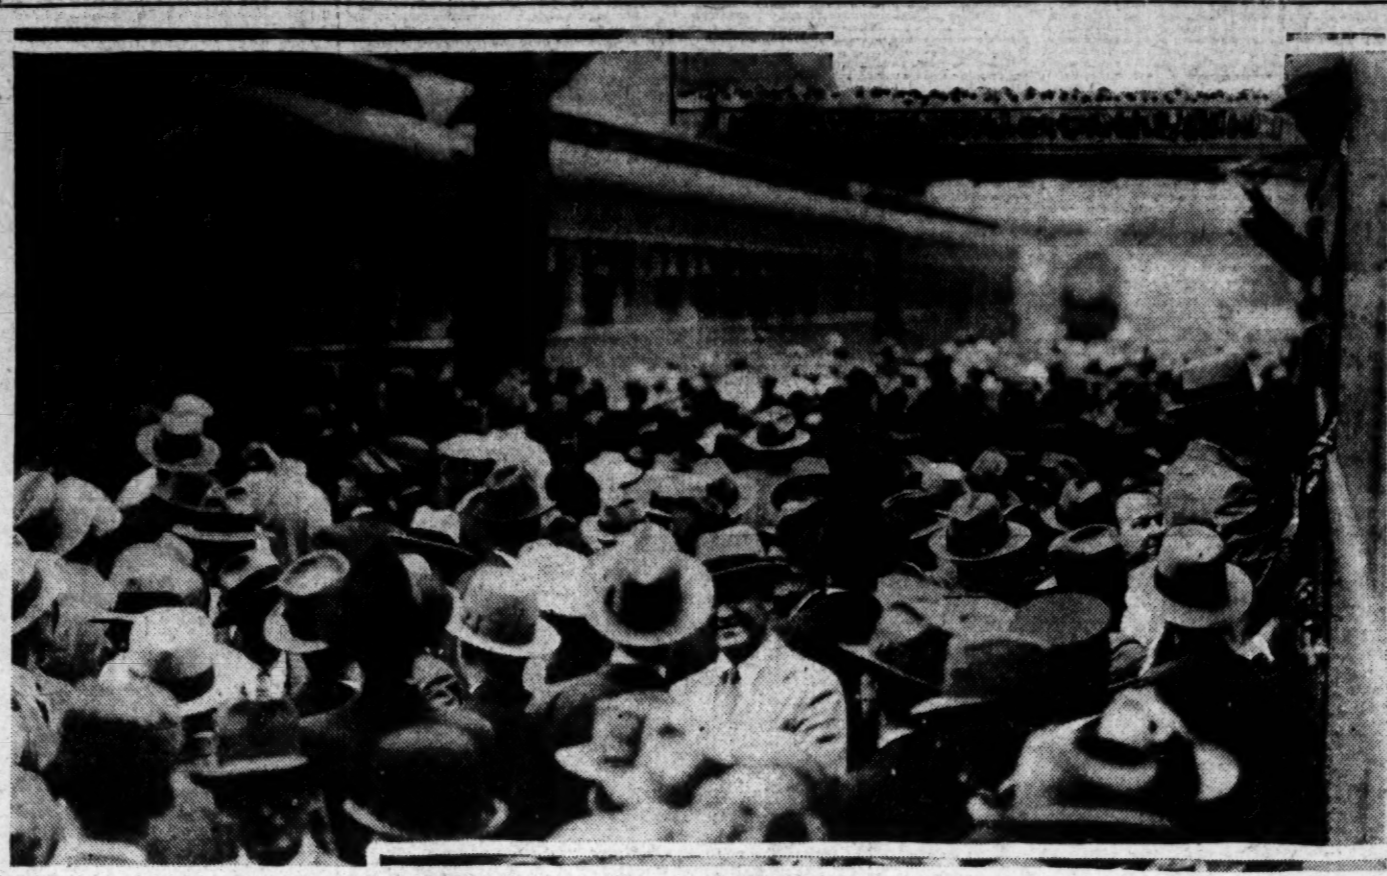

D. R. Paige, of the auditing firm of Ernst and Ernst, was the only witness summoned before the grand jury in the Carnes matter Friday. W. H. Glenn signed the true bill as acting foreman.

Freedom Thought Precluded.

In setting another $50,000 bond in the third indictment, attaches of the solicitor's office feel that the legal shackle has been so tightly clamped on him as to preclude him from obtaining freedom.

Carnes, however, was reported as having said that he could make bond for "whatever amount was set." A total of $3,105, which Carnes had with him, was deposited with Mr. Holland. This represented all the

Crowds Jam Union Station for Glimpse of Carnes

Crowds thronged the Union station Friday morning. They filled the waiting room. They filled the concourse. And they sought every other vantage point. All for a glimpse of Clyde R. Carnes, returning to face charges of having embezzled possibly a million dollars from the home mission board of the Southern Baptist convention. In the photograph a small part of the jam is seen. On the viaduct above the train are more hundreds lining the rail. More crowds were on hand at the tower to witness the arrival there.

CARNES IN TOWER,

he was captured, came up, and Carnes quit talking.

And as Carnes paced his short cell block, the Fulton county grand jury returned a true bill for the third time within the past few weeks, charging him with a bond shortage of $80,000.

The indictment charged embezzlement on August 15 of the following bonds:

$10,000 General Motors company.
$2,000 Florida East Coast railroad.
$5,000 Florida East Coast railroad.
$15,000 government of Switzerland.
$14,000 Toledo Edison company.
$15,000 Liberty bonds.

His bond in the case was set at $50,000, making a total of $150,000, which he must post if he is to regain his freedom.

Two former indictments had pushed his bond to $100,000 for alleged embezzlement of funds totaling about $160,000.

No defense plans were made because of the physical condition of the prisoner. Carnes maintained the silence which has marked him since his capture in Winnipeg a week ago. He was returned to the city just 21 days from the time he fled.

When he last left he was one of the city's most highly respected citizens, a prominent businessman and a highly successful business man. He returned pale and haggard, with the disguise he had effected still in use.

Members of the Baptist Home Mission board, which it is said has suffered a loss to date of more than $800,000 through the official's defalcation, declined to comment on the case. They stated he was now in the hands of several thousand persons who were on hand to greet him. A curious and bohemian group composed of persons of all classes was present.

The giant engine was forced to push them off the tracks as it slowed down for the stop. Practically all the group had gathered on the tracks, and Carnes was rushed out a door on the other side, and whisked to the tower. A Constitution representative rode at his side.

BIG HIGHWAY MEETING
OPENS HERE TUESDAYSpecial Reception Committee Appointed To Entertain Delegates.

With senators, congressmen and statesmen from the 13 states traversed by the Bankhead national highway in attendance, the convention of the Bankhead National Highway association will be started at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Ansley hotel.

Among those expected at the convention are: Congressman Charles E. Edwards, of Savannah; Congressman Bankhead, of Alabama, son of the late Senator Bankhead, for whom the highway was named; Judge W. C. Adams, of Alabama, and a member of the Virginia and a member of the British parliament, with her daughter, today entered Williamsburg to pay her first visit to one of the most historic spots of her native state.

After starting from Richmond this morning, the automobile in which Lady Astor and her daughter were traveling, developed engine trouble, whereupon the two English women halted the first passing car which happened to be the one operated by the Philadelphia man. Lady Astor was unable to give the man's name and it is believed here that her own identity was unknown to the salesman.

Carpenters Reaffirm Action in Expelling Alleged Communists

Lakeland, Fla., October 5.—(P)—Delegates to the annual convention of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America today unanimously reaffirmed their action in expelling from the organization Thomas Schneider, of local 29, New York, and four other men, all alleged to be communists.

Today's action came in answer to a telegram from John Morrey, president, and G. Kerekas, recording secretary, of the New York local, protesting the men's expulsion.

Congratulations for the "ever progressive brotherhood on its action on communism" were received from John J. Leary, Jr., labor editor of the New York World.

Warning that the "lumber industry might be led into difficulties if they displayed too much interest in the carpenters and joiners" was sounded by President W. L. Hutcheson, of the brotherhood, who explained that this was so on account of discrimination made against organized labor by some of the mills.

John M. Gibbs, trade expansion manager of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, said that the manufacturers were in no sense interested in the retail lumber business. He would give their wholehearted support in solving problems common to both organizations, where they would not be involved in other matters.

Mr. Gibbs presented President Hutcheson with a gavel made from timber taken from the white house when it was remodeled.

Seaman Tells of Murders And Robberies in Amazing Confession Made to Police

Conscience Brings Story of Lifetime of Crime From Lips of Prisoner in Washington Jail.

BY LEE GEBHART.

Washington, October 5.—(United News.)—An amazing confession of murder and robbery stretching over a 25-year period has been made to capital police by Carl Panzrau, 38-year-old seaman, who has been held in district jail since September 1, awaiting grand jury action on a charge of housebreaking.

His conscience apparently troubled by the weight of his crimes, Panzrau summoned Major William L. Peaks, the jail superintendent, and detailed to him how he had murdered a youth, 16, in Philadelphia last summer, killed an 11-year-old boy in Boston in 1920, and robbed the New Haven, Conn., home of Chief Justice William Howard Taft of $40,000 worth of jewels.

Panzrau, who Major Peaks describes as the most untruthful prisoner he has ever had to deal with, made a written confession to a detective after his verbal confession to the jail superintendent, in which he said his life of crime started when he was 12, and that he has since served 20 years in prison.

His prison terms, Panzrau's confession said, have been in 11 penitentiaries, three reformatories and 200 jails.

Choked Boy.

The Philadelphia murder was committed on the property of the Essinger Yacht Club, Panzrau said. He described Peaks said how he had choked the boy to death, wrapped the body in a blanket and threw it in the river.

Philadelphia authorities later confirmed this part of the confession when they wired police here that a body answering the description of the victim had been found in the river August 24, and buried without an autopsy.

Panzrau said he had no motive for either murder.

Boston authorities wired district police they had no record of the murder of an 11-year-old boy in 1920. Panzrau said the $40,000 in jewels taken from the Taft home had been disposed of for $15,000. He said the money was used to purchase the yacht "Kelester" from James Gordon Bennett, the publisher, at Newport, R. I.

In his hurry to escape from the Taft home after the robbery, Panzrau said he had injured his head on a broken pane of glass and left behind him a blood-stained hat.

Only last Wednesday night Panzrau made a bold attempt to escape from the district jail, but was frustrated by guards when they entered his cell and discovered his preparations. He had removed a chain support from his bunk, wrapped it around two cell bars and partly freed them by using an iron bar from his bunk.

The attempt to escape was found when a guard noticed a towel hanging from Panzrau's cell window. He had covered the two bars with it to prevent detection.

Panzrau was brought here from Baltimore in connection with a robbery here. He says his home is in East Grand Park, Mich.

An investigation of the crimes which Panzrau confessed to is being made by district police in cooperation with police in other cities.

Royal Airplanes Find Lost Hunters ON SAHARA DESERT

Cairo, Egypt, October 5.—(AP)—After six days in the desert, with only one full day's supply of water and food, a party of four hunters which motored into the desert on a shooting expedition last Saturday was found today south of the Fayoum oasis. The party consisted of an Italian, an Egyptian, a Dragoman and chauffeur. All were alive.

Royal air force planes were used in the search.

Freighter Picks Up Thistleben Crew After Collision

New York, October 5.—(AP)—The shipping concern of Norton, Lilley and company received a communication today relayed from their freighter Hanley, Captain J. E. Brinker, that the ship had picked up the crew of the British freighter Thistleben en route from Sunderland, England, to Galveston, Texas. The position was not given. Unconfirmed reports were that the Thistleben, collided with another ship and sank.

The Hanley, a lumber schooner, is bound from Colon, Panama, to Newark, N. J. She is due here Sunday. The Hanley has no wireless so no direct communication has been established. It was believed she signalled the picking up of the Thistleben crew by a flare.

The Thistleben is a boat of 4,580 gross tons, the ship registry shows. 401 crew, 533 beans and 23.8 depth. Ordinarily she would carry a crew of about 50.

ANOTHER CANARD TRACED TO PASTOR

Indiana concerning Governor Smith: "I did make the statement in Indiana, but I had been informed that upon one occasion when Governor Smith had broadcast that he was so intoxicated that he had to be supported by two persons."

"I also made the statement in Indiana that I had been informed that on the Sunday following his nomination the governor went to New York and that when he was in the Albany station he had been drinking."

"I also made the statement that in my opinion if anyone asked the governor that direct question as to whether or not during his occupancy of that high office he had used intoxicating liquors or had been a drinking man that the governor would admit that he had done so."

"I further stated in Indiana that I had never read or heard any denial by the governor himself that he was a drinking man; but the only denials I had heard of were made by others and I did not believe the governor would deny it if he were asked the direct question."

CAPITAL CITY CLUB OPENS COUNTRY HOUSE

New Clubhouse Follows Lines of Old French Provincial Chateau.

Members of the Capital City club, of Atlanta, and their guests spent the greater part of Friday admiring the new country home which was thrown open for inspection.

The clubhouse, following the lines of the old French provincial chateau, both inside and out, is a very beautiful building and one of the most modern in the country. The building was open to inspection from 11 to 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. A dinner was held at 6 o'clock Friday night followed by a dance.

The building is exquisitely decorated inside, following out the French provincial style with here and there touches of the English and early American. The entrance is finished entirely in French provincial as is the main lounge, room, hung at either end with tapestry embroidered with the fleur-de-lis of France. One side of the room is almost entirely taken up by a huge fireplace. Opening off this room are the main dining room and the two private dining rooms. The main dining room, both in architecture and decoration, is fashioned after the style of Francis I. This room also will be used as a ballroom in conjunction with the terrace outside.

One of the private dining rooms is finished after the French provincial while the other is after the English fashion.

One of the most beautiful rooms of the entire clubhouse is the ladies' room which brought forth numerous compliments from the feminine visitors. The men's room is in the early American style and hung with many old English paintings and racing prints.

The decoration is the work of the W. E. Browne company and offers a faithful reproduction of the styles copied.

The complaints were against "John Doe, candidate for United States senator," "John Doe, his personal campaign committee secretary," and "John Doe, publisher of a Madison newspaper."

Hovey is associated with what is known as the conservative element of the republican party. The progressive candidate for United States senator is Robert M. La Follette. His personal secretary was Alfred T. Rogers, Madison attorney.

Federal Government Sues Big Estate To Collect Taxes

New York, October 5.—(AP)—The federal government today brought suit to collect $231,514, due from the estate of Isaac Guggenheim, copper magnate, alleging that the money was due as an additional inheritance tax.

The basis for the claim is the establishment of a trust of $1,427,000 for the benefit of Mrs. Guggenheim and her daughters, and an alleged undervaluation of $500,000 by the estate in securities. The estate contends that the trust, established in 1920, was a gift. The government holds that the gift was not completed until the death of Mr. Guggenheim on October 10, 1922. He left more than $14,000,000.

Sandusky, Ohio, October 5.—(AP)—Legal sale of liquor will be established by the Canadian government at Pelee island, four miles from the Ohio Lake Erie shore, within three weeks, according to Henry Henderson, provincial collector of customs for the island. Westcliffe, Colo., October 5.—(AP)—Missing for six days in the rugged hills of the Sangre de Cristo range, the Rev. A. M. Burroughs, 70-year-old Episcopal minister, was given up as lost today.

Searchers believe he fell over a cliff shortly after he set out for a walk. A daughter of the minister, here from Grand Junction, Colo., has returned to her home and organized search for him. A reward of $100 was offered today by the Westcliffe Episcopal church for information concerning the pastor's whereabouts. Townspeople of Westcliffe closed their stores last Wednesday to join in the search.

One Man Confesses, Implicating Two Others.

Kenosha, Wis., October 5.—(AP)—A confession that police believe clears up a bombing and other acts of violence in connection with the labor dispute here was obtained today, they announced, from Lawrence Schilling, 20, a former employee of the Allen-A company, where a strike has been in progress for some months.

Schilling implicated two other men and they have been arrested. They are Carl Haubrich, 20, and John Bucko, 20, also former employees. A man whom Schilling names as "Louis Williams" and who was pointed out to him as the man who was to bomb the home of an Allen-A worker in Winthrop Harbor, Ill., according to his confession, is being sought.

Police said Schilling stated that when he drove up to union headquarters one day Williams, who had a package under his arm, was pointed out to him, and he was told that was the man who was to bomb the Winthrop Harbor home.

The confession said that Schilling, Haubrich and John Bucko fired two shots into the house of Mrs. August Morsfeld, whose son Arthur is an employee of the Allen-A company. They are held on charges of assault with a deadly weapon.

Police said the confession gave them other clues which might lead to further arrests.

Congressman Bankhead Assailed by Rowdies During Ala. Speech

Parish, Ala., October 5.—(AP)—A fusillade of eggs directed at Congressman W. B. Bankhead, of Jasper, in the course of his address here last night in support of Governor Smith, the democratic nominee for president. The throwers missed their mark.

The eggs were thrown at Mr. Bankhead through an open window. He paused and declared that he was being treated discourteously. T. J. Norris, an ardent Smith supporter, took his seat in the window and the speaker was allowed to continue uninterrupted.

Several persons ran from the building as the eggs scattered on a wall behind the congressman but reported they were unable to locate the throwers.

This section of Walker county is conceded by political leaders to be strongly anti-Smith.

Outsiders Blamed In Alleged Drugging Of College Student

Birmingham, Ala., October 5.—(AP)—Arrest of outsiders on charges that they drugged A. B. Jeffery, a Harvard college freshman in annual "fraternity rush" Monday, was expected here before the week is out.

Dr. John L. Dawson, president of the institution, last night said that the most thorough investigation possible indicated that Jeffery was drugged and that all clues led to "outside parties." He was willing to say that the clues led to "a very certain direction and arrests are hoped for within 48 hours."

Both Jeffery and college authorities have absolved Harvard fraternity men and claims in the case. Jeffery reported to college authorities that he became unconscious after taking a soft drink with two strangers Monday night. He later fought his way out of a north side house where he had awakened. Two fellow students met him while he was still in a stupor and the trio went to the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity banquet where Jeffery was pledged. He later returned the Pi Kappa Alpha pin.

LEGION GATHERING AT SAN ANTONIO FOR CONVENTION

San Antonio, Texas, October 5.—(AP)—About 7,000 men of the national American Legion were here tonight, two days ahead of the organization's forthcoming annual convention, bivouacked in hotels not far from the post of one of America's biggest fighting units, the eighth corps area headquarters. The convention opens Monday.

Today followers of the various candidates for the national command ship busied themselves and the various committees were given last-minute instructions.

Scores of distinguished guests, among them Field Marshal Lord Allenby, British war hero, and Dwight Davis, war secretary, are expected. National Commander Edward E. Spafford is to arrive by plane Saturday.

Allege 1,300 G. O. P. Fraudulent Ballots Cast in Primary Vote

Flint, Mich., October 5.—(AP)—Approximately 1,300 fraudulent republican ballots were cast in the September primary election here and fictitious names were entered upon the poll books, Circuit Judge James S. Parker stated today in reporting upon his one-man grand jury inquiry into charges of election irregularities.

The inquiry has resulted in the indictment of 14 men, including Mayor William H. McKeligan.

Judge Parker said his inquiry showed that blank ballots were stolen from ballot boxes assembled in the city hall attic on the night of September 2; that they were taken to a neighborhood office outside the city hall, and after having been marked, were returned to the ballot boxes, to be distributed to the polling booth the next morning.

He criticized the method used in choosing inspectors of election and recommended safeguards to be employed at future elections.

Mayor McKeligan with three others is under bond to appear for examination October 10.

4 CITIES ARE SEEKING LEGION CONVENTION

Arriving Delegates at San Antonio Hear of Next Year's Plans.

San Antonio, Texas, October 5.—(AP) Internal politics and discussion of policies held the advance guard of the American Legion delegates, here today for the national convention, which meets October 8 for the five-day annual session.

Candidates for the office of national commander already in the field were Roy Hoffman, Oklahoma City; General Albert L. Cox, Raleigh, N. C.; and O. L. Bodenhamer, Eldorado, Ark. Other suggested candidates included Ralph T. O'Neil, Topeka, Kans.; vice commander; John E. Tving, Shreveport, La.; and Monroe Johnson, South Carolina.

Followers of the Cox and Hoffman banners already have set up campaign headquarters.

Three hundred and seventy-five resolutions framed by the organization's 58 departments form a part of the convention's business. The aeronautical question was regarded as one of the outstanding discussions to come before the former service men.

Continued friendly relations between the United States and her former allies, as symbolized by the presence here of distinguished foreign guests, will be the keynote of the American Legion auxiliary convention, Mrs. Robert Walbridge, Cedarborough, N. H., national president, said today. The auxiliary will meet in connection with the legion convention.

Spokesmen for three cities—Detroit, Louisville and Los Angeles—have started lobbying for the next convention. A delegation from Miami, Fla., was expected to put in a bid for that city soon.

IT TAKES ALL-BRAN TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

More and more people are eating bran for "health's sake" these days. And it's a fine thing. But not everybody realizes what a difference there is in so-called "brans." Doctors say it takes 100% bran to supply enough roughage to relieve constipation. Part-bran products, at best, can only be partly effective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. It furnishes roughage in effective quantities and in the most effective form: cooked and krumbled. It does a work part-bran products cannot hope to equal. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal—are guaranteed to relieve constipation.

Serve ALL-BRAN often. With milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Be sure you get genuine Kellogg's though—in the red-and-green package. Use it in cooking. Sprinkle into soups. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Football Clash and Club Opening Inaugurate Fall Season

Today is of unusual interest to young and old sports and otherwise, for it marks two great epochs in the fall season with the inauguration of football on Grant field in the afternoon and the brilliant opening of the Capital City Country club in the evening. Atlantans and southerners in general are looking forward to the initial clash between V. M. I. and Georgia Tech which takes place at 3:30 o'clock on Grant field. Indicative of the interest felt in the game was the early choice of the charming sponsors for both teams. A trio of lovely Georgia belles have been chosen to champion the Tech team, including Misses Dorothy Dutta and Rose Bodue, of Atlanta, and Miss Ethel Woodruff, of Columbus. Wearing the colors of red, white and yellow for the visiting team will be Miss Louise Moore and Miss Elizabeth Spalding, popular members of the college and younger social set.

Since the first mass of stone and brick was deposited at the extreme end of Brookhaven drive and on through the period of formation up until the very day when there stands in that artistic setting one of the most beautiful clubhouse to be found in the south, keen has been our anticipation of the grand opening of the Brookhaven Country club. The clubhouse, a replica of an exquisite old French chateau, situated effectively beside the beautiful pine-bordered lake, will be the festive scene of many interesting dinner parties.

Haney-Moreland Ceremony Performed Sunday.
Centering the interest of friends was the marriage of Miss Mary Ella Haney to Robert B. Moreland, of Woodbury, Ga., which was solemnized on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Haney, Mr. Moreland is a graduate of Georgia Tech and a former star of the basketball and baseball teams. He now holds a responsible position with the Merton Machine Company of Hartford, Conn. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Moreland left for a wedding journey and upon their return will be at home to their friends with the bride's parents at 806 Boulevard, N. E.

Junior Red Cross Activities Are of Wide Interest

High School council of the Junior Red Cross, which met at the North Avenue Presbyterian school Thursday afternoon, was honored by a visit from the National Junior Red Cross director, Mr. H. B. Wilson, of Washington, D. C.

Mr. Wilson emphasized the junior ideas of service and stressed his hearers with the privilege it was to hold membership in an organization founded on the highest principles of practical good to humanity. Miss Thirza Askew, principal of North Avenue school, entertained the meeting with a delightful social hour.

The officers of the Junior Red Cross High School councils are chosen this year, a ballot given the schools in alphabetical order. It fell to Hoke Smith Junior High to name the president; to Commercial High to name the vice president; to Tech High to name the secretary; and to Joe Brown Junior High to name the treasurer.

The representatives of the schools did not state on what basis these selections would be made, but the officers will be duly installed at the next meeting and the manner of their selection will be revealed. By this plan every school will have an opportunity to furnish Red Cross officers from year to year.

Christmas boxes, coming to the junior office, beautifully packed and looking like the very spirit of Christmas. There will be several thousands of these boxes to be sent from the city schools of Atlanta to the children in schools of other lands. Each year this act of universal brotherhood is carried on and the interest in it never less.

With the enrollment period, which begins in November, the contributions for a children's cottage at Alto will be made. The appeal to the schools of Atlanta for this special service was made through the board of education, and after being endorsed by that body the Junior Red Cross was selected as the medium by which this work could best be accomplished.

SUPREME COURT HEARS WOMAN'S CLUB CASE

Five Superior Court Judges Take Places of Disqualified Justices.

The fight for the presidency of the Atlanta Woman's club was argued before the state supreme court Friday, with five superior court judges sitting in the places of supreme court justices who were disqualified from hearing the case by reason of various connections, direct or indirect, with interests of the two factions.

Chief Justice Richard J. Russell alone escaped disqualification, supreme court judges who supplanted the disqualified justices were: Charles Roop, Carrollton; W. W. Stark, Commerce; W. E. Thomas, Valdosta; James Maddox, Rome; and D. A. R. Crum, Cordele.

Argument in the fight between Mrs. Charles Goodman, whose claim to the presidency was upheld by Superior Court Judge John D. Humphries, and Mrs. John Hernady, was frequently interrupted by the justices, who sought to acquaint themselves with the by-laws and constitution of the woman's club. A number of members of the club were in court during the argument.

Three superior court judges also were called in to hear the case of the Georgia Railway and Power company vs. Endisley, an automobile accident damage suit, because several of the justices were disqualified to sit in the case. Judges R. E. of Tifton, G. Ogden Persons, of Forsyth, and Blanton Fortson, of Athens, sat with Justice Marcus W. Beck in this case.

Chief of Police Chris H. Newton, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, who directed the successful search in that city for Clinton S. Carnes, may come to Atlanta next year to attend the international convention of police chiefs. John H. Hudson, assistant solicitor-general, who brought Carnes back from Winnipeg, said Friday on his return to Atlanta.

Mr. Hudson said that the crown officials in Winnipeg showed himself and Deputy Sheriff R. T. Tolbert every courtesy, and that their visit to Winnipeg revealed that city to be a most charming town of about the same size and appearance as Atlanta.

THREE HEADS TOGETHER.
BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

When something really must be done, Three heads are three as good as one. —Johnny Chuck.

When Reddy Fox left Johnny Chuck, Jerry Muskrat and Mrs. Muskrat, he never once looked behind him. But they turned to watch him. They did not advise their eyes from him. Not until he had disappeared around the corner of the cornfield did they even look at each other.

"Well," said Jerry Muskrat, as Reddy disappeared, "what do you make of that? He certainly was polite. It must be that he isn't hungry this morning."

"Don't you believe it! You're just fooling yourself," declared Johnny Chuck. "If you had been alone, you would have found it a very different matter. There would have been no politeness on the part of Reddy Fox. But with three of us he didn't know what to do. He didn't dare fight three of us."

"Well," declared Mrs. Muskrat, "he's gone now, so I guess we'd better finish our breakfast and get back to the water."

Johnny looked at Mrs. Muskrat and saw that she really believed what she said. Then he looked at Jerry and saw that there was a little doubt in Jerry's eyes. "I guess you don't know Reddy Fox as well as I do," he said. "Of course, I can't see Reddy this minute and so I don't know that he is where I think he is. But unless I am greatly mistaken he is over in that corn watching us this very instant. He's waiting, and he will continue to wait. He is hoping that we will separate and that he'll get a chance to get one of you two alone. I know Reddy Fox. I've known him ever since I was a little fellow at my mother's heels. He could fool me once, but he can't fool me now. If you folks take my advice don't finish your breakfast and then get back to the water."

"Perhaps we had better get back to the water right away," said Mrs. Muskrat.

"There's no hurry," explained Johnny. "You may as well finish your breakfast. You are just as safe now as you were when he came over here. As long as we stay together he won't bother us."

"That sounds like good advice," said Jerry Muskrat. "As long as I am here I should like to fill up. Do you really think he is hiding over there in the corn?"

"I'm sure of it," replied Johnny. "I think I could go right to the spot where he is. Do you see that yellow pumpkin over there in the corn?" Jerry said that he saw it. "Well," replied Johnny Chuck, "I believe he is right behind that." Johnny said:

"Don't you believe it! You're only fooling yourself," declared Johnny Chuck.

denly sat up and looked long and hard. "That's where he is," said he. "When I sit up I can see him peering around that pumpkin. I'll tell you what, we'll move over to the edge of the corn patch nearest to the water and farthest from Reddy. Then you and Mrs. Muskrat eat your fill. As long as Reddy is alone we won't worry about him. If Mrs. Reddy, or Old Granny Fox were along with him it would be different. Turn we would be in danger. I'm not afraid of Reddy alone, as I have already told you. But I would be afraid of two Foxes at the same time. Now go ahead and eat and I'll keep watch."

So Jerry and Mrs. Muskrat went on with their breakfast. They ate hurriedly, for they were nervous. And all the time Johnny Chuck sat up watching that yellow pumpkin over in the cornfield, behind which Reddy Fox was hiding. There was a sly little grin on Johnny Chuck's face. "Some folks are not so smart as they think they are," said Johnny to himself. I wonder just what he meant, don't you?

Notre Dame-Wisconsin-Wisconsin will never stumble over a better chance to lead Dr. Rockne into captivity. Notre Dame, at this date, doesn't look to be up to former high standards and Wisconsin looks better than usual, with a number of good backs working behind a big, strong line. Notre Dame is no push over, but the star material of other years is missing and it may be November before Rockne can work his present material up to full strength. He had a rough afternoon heading off Loyola, of New Orleans, last week. He should have a rougher time today if Wisconsin plays up to its possibilities.

Army-Southern Methodist-The Army starts today one of the hardest matches in all football-Southern Methodist-Harvard-Yale-Notre Dame-Nebraska-Stanford-and Southern Methodist will be the featured game of the day. Ray Morrison has been turning out good teams for several years-teams skillfully equipped with the passing game. The Army, with its high class veteran material-Cagle, Murrell, Nave, Sprague, Perry, etc., ought to win by a pair of touchdowns, but the Texas visitors will put on an interesting show and play their share of football.

NEGRO TEAMS CLASH TODAY IN OPENERS

Atlanta's colored population is agog over the opening tilt today between Morris Brown university and Morehouse college, which will officially open the 1928 season. The Morris Brown squad will enter the game with the underdog, Clemmons, versatile all-southern tackle for the Wolverines, will see action. This lad was crippled last year by a bad fall, but his presence will be a great inspiration to the whole team.

Cochran Cannady, starting his first year as coach of the team, is at 1923, and giving up the position at that time on account of his increasing practice, will have his last test. His second team went through night workouts Friday in final preparation for the game. Each squad is in the pink of condition for the fray.

Both teams went through night workouts Friday in final preparation for the game. Each squad is in the pink of condition for the fray.

Colgate-Vanderbilt-This will be another meeting of two strong teams. Colgate has back most of her 1927 strength, with a lot of man power to add into the field. Vanderbilt is well rated among the three strongest teams in the south, a stronger team than last fall. Vanderbilt will find Colgate's defense, backed up by Duncanson punting, a hard blockade to break through. The southern attack is likely to be faster and more dangerous. This is a game for both teams, since both will need about all they have to prevent defeat.

North Carolina has a busy afternoon with Maryland, where the score last year was 7-5. Syracuse should handle William and Mary and Pennsylvania will take care of Franklin and Marshall. Pennsylvania is another worth while keeping under observation as the team slips along.

Navy-Boston college-The Navy drew a shock last week from Davis, Elkins, but D-E has been in a shocking mood this season, having slipped in the last game of the young season in holding West Virginia and Navy scoreless. Defeats may not be pleasant, but the Navy's setback will cause a stronger team to look for a fight against B-C, a team that ought to win.

Mid-West-Most of the conference teams have somewhat shaky records. Indiana, facing Oklahoma and Chicago, tackling Wyoming, have the hardest assignments. Illinois, Ohio State, Michigan, Minnesota, and Northwestern look safe enough.

N. Y. U.-Fordham-Columbia-N. Y. U. and Fordham put on their polishing workout for their own meeting a week away in one of the best October games in the country. The home-town rivals, evenly matched, are always certain to put on a party worth looking at. Columbia has Union and Wesleyan to face before meeting Dartmouth in one of the hardest games the Blue and White will bump against.

Carrollton A. & M. Defeated by Rome

Rome, October 5.-[Special]-Rome high school defeated Carrollton, Ga., A. & M. 13-0. Both teams failed to score in the first half, the visitors outgaining the locals but never being able to put the ball across the last chalk mark. In the third quarter the Romans blocked a punt on Carrollton's one-yard line and bucked over the ball. Carrollton kicked for the extra point. The final score came in the last two minutes of play, when Carrollton's 40-yard line Carter threw a pass to Hammond that was good for a touchdown. Cook and Waller were the big ground gainers for the locals while Carpenter and Gladley did the heavy work for the visitors.

Final Game Today For Diamond Title

The 1928 city amateur baseball crown will be the prize that the Nunnally company's team and the Whitely Mills club will battle for Saturday afternoon in the final game of the city series which is scheduled for 3 o'clock at Atlanta Athletic Club.

Evans will be on the firing line for the candy-makers and will be opposed by Coleman. These boys have turned in many creditable games. Evans wishing to visit the scene of this conflict can reach Alameda park on the River or the park cars at the Broad street station.

The park board of Baltimore and the city itself got into an argument last night as to whether a road should be built through a piece of ground that had been selected for a public golf course. The argument will hold up the start of work at least a year, it is said.

$50,000 DAMAGES SOUGHT FOR CHILD INJURED BY TRAIN

Fifty thousand dollars for the loss of both legs and for other injuries is sought by Alton Alexander, 11, in a suit filed in the city court of Atlanta Friday by his father, Julius Alexander, as next friend, against the Georgia Railroad and Banking company, the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company, and the Atlantic Coast Line railway. It is charged that the child was injured at the Hurt street crossing of the Georgia railroad on June 19.

The petition, prepared by Sims & Berman, alleges that as a result of being struck down by the train the child had both legs amputated above the knees.

Rain and Cooler Weather Seen For City Today

The possibility of a drizzle this morning was seen Friday by C. F. von Herrmann, United States meteorologist. Mr. von Herrmann said that a shower which he expected to start late Friday night would probably extend into the forenoon today. After the shower the weather will probably clear up with a touch of moderately cooler temperature, he said.

Mr. von Herrmann expects temperatures today to range between 60 and 75 or 77 degrees, as compared with the 67 to 80 degree readings of Friday. There is no real cold weather or frost in sight yet, he said.

AUTO BODY BACKS LEGISLATIVE POLL ON ROAD PROGRAM

Recent action of the Macon Chamber of Commerce in sending out questionnaires to newly-elected members of the state legislature asking their attitudes on the highway program was approved by the advisory council of the Georgia State Automobile association at a meeting Friday.

Attention of the council was called to the action of the Macon body by T. Baldwin Martin, of Macon, representative of middle Georgia on the association board. He explained that the circulars were sent to the legislators because of a desire on the part of the members of the chamber to know the opinion of the state on highway matters. It is the hope of the body, he said, that through a crystallization of sentiment a constructive program may be soon achieved.

SAYS FLORIDA NEEDS 2-PARTY GOVERNMENT

G. O. P. Candidate for Governor
Scores Democratic Party.

Miami, Fla., October 5.—(AP)—Florida will experience renewed prosperity when it establishes a two-party government, obtains a protective tariff on her produce and cuts expense and lowers taxes, William J. Howey, republican candidate for governor, told an audience in Bay Front Park last night.

"One of the apparently needless expenditures pushed on the taxpayers by the democratic politicians of the state," said Howey, "was that in 1914 there were 17 circuit judges in Florida handling all the business of the state while today there are 40."

"When I am elected governor," the candidate continued, "I shall immediately call for the resignation of 20 of these judges. I will also combine or abolish numerous political boards now holding office and drawing their salaries from the taxpayers of the state."

Referring to a protective tariff on Florida fruits and vegetables, Howey said that the pineapple crop of this state has "been destroyed by competition from the state legislatures of the south because of a desire on the part of the members of the chamber to know the opinion of the state on highway matters. It is the hope of the body, he said, that through a crystallization of sentiment a constructive program may be soon achieved."

DUTCH FREIGHTER
LIMPS TO PORT

New York, October 5.—(AP)—The Gale-battered Dutch freighter Celano with six of her lifeboats gone and off of her crew of 35 dead today was proceeding toward Boston under her own steam.

"R. S. Celano to all ships," said the last message relayed from the little freighter. "Here everything O. K. Lost six lifeboats. A previous message had told of the death of one of the crew members. The ship was believed still standing by, ready to aid if necessary."

Word of the safety of the ship was received from Captain Paul Wiehr, of the Albert Ballin, whose message said the Gale was in sight. The ship was the first to reach the Celano, which was believed still standing by, ready to aid if necessary.

Chicago, October 5.—(AP)—Aviation is to be taught in the classrooms of the leading Chicago high schools. "The time has come to teach the fundamentals of airplane construction and operation," William J. Bogun, superintendent of schools, said today. "School boys and girls everywhere are eager to learn the how and why of aeronautics. Instruction will be offered in the theory of flight, aerodynamics and model making."

Used Her Cakes For Poker Chips; She Gets Divorce

Chicago, October 5.—(AP)—If George Marks persists in his peculiar practice of using pancakes for poker chips, he must depend upon someone else to fry them for him, a court judge has ruled. Mrs. Sarah Marks up to yesterday was Mrs. George Marks. Judge Gemmill changed that by granting her a divorce. Her contention was that she was three restaurants. She might at least have one of his chefs fry pancakes to be used as collateral in a poker game.

When she was asked to testify, she said, to flopping flapjacks on a hot griddle at 3 o'clock in the morning for the sustenance of Marks' card-playing guests, but when those same flapjacks were used to serve in lieu of chips, she held it to be cruel and inhuman treatment.

"It was a little too much to expect," her attorney told Judge Gemmill, who agreed with him. "Marks owns three restaurants. He might at least have one of his chefs fry pancakes to be used as collateral in a poker game."

LOYALTY TO PARTY URGED AT GRIFFIN BY REUBEN ARNOLD

Griffin, Ga., October 5.—(Special)—Reuben Arnold, county auditor, attorney and ardent supporter of the democratic national ticket, called upon the "old-time democrats" to "stick to the party" in an address delivered here today.

Mr. Arnold spoke under auspices of the Georgia Democratic League of Spalding county and responded to a series of 13 questions asked by W. C. Jackson, leader of the Spalding anti-Smith organization, through a written statement in the local newspaper.

The gathering was held in the Griffin athletic court, which was crowded with residents of Spalding county. The speakers exhibited warm enthusiasm for the party loyalty evoked by Chester A. Byars, representative from Spalding in the state legislature, while F. M. Gaisert, president of the Men's Democratic club, presided. The Woman's Democratic League was represented by the chairman, Mrs. Harry Rogers.

OHIO-TO-PACIFIC AIRPLANE SERVICE WILL START SOON

New York, October 5.—(AP)—On recommendation of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, chairman of its technical committee, the Transcontinental Air Transport Co., organized to operate the air portion of plane-train service between New York and San Francisco, decided today to establish an all-air route from Columbus, Ohio, to the west coast. Plans with sleeping accommodations will be used for night flying.

The all-air service, President C. M. Keys, of the Transport company, said today, will place New York one business day from the west coast. It will supplement the originally planned joint rail and air route giving a daily 48-hour service between the coasts. Plans for this service, it was stated, are well under way.

Moore, in relation to the state tax assessor of Leon county, Florida, neighbor county to Thomas county, have been consolidated, in the hope of getting a decision before the November election. These two men, running for the democratic nomination for tax assessor, each received 1,738 votes.

LINDY STAYS OFF AIR DURING BALL CLASSIC

Speaks at Aeronautical Safety Conference, But Bars "Mikes."

New York, October 5.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh declined today to compete for the interest of radio listeners with the world series baseball game.

He was a speaker at the first national aeronautical safety conference and station WOR had arranged to interrupt its running story of the contest at the Yankee stadium to put the aviator on the air.

But when Colonel Lindbergh appeared to speak he insisted on having the microphones removed before he would begin, and the station switched back to the ball game, which it had already cut off.

The colonel explained his action by saying that he had previously agreed to reread his paper after the ball game was finished over WEAF and did not feel he could permit his original delivery to be broadcast over another station.

Talking on "requirements and training for a commercial pilot," Lindbergh advocated a definite standard of flying instruction, state adoption of federal flying regulations development of commercial training planes and suitable landing fields for training purposes.

Many commercial flying schools, Lindbergh continued, were graduating students with only 10 hours in the air, a practice which he believed had "bearing on the fact that a majority of aviation accidents were due to faulty piloting."

Flying schools should be rated and patronized according to excellence as are our universities and colleges," he said.

The officers were shaken up and both machines badly damaged. Davenport was arrested and locked up on charges of reckless driving and failure to stop at a through street. The officers stated that the siren on the city car was wide open at the time of the crash.

The flight was an exhibition stunt and was viewed by hundreds, including the entire student body of a school near the landing place. Three attempts were necessary before the airship could be made fast on top of a warehouse which was flanked on one side by the school building and on the other by the building of the American Nature association.
